

INDEPENDENT ACHIEVERS

April 2018 Newsletter

Message from Chairperson Diane Kinnear:

Thank You Annette Stanwick for an Incredible Presentation in March!

Calling all Independent Achievers Enthusiasts! We are at a Crossroads this year...I have enjoyed immensely to be your Chairperson, however, as is only right, the group needs to shift leaders every three years, and surprisingly, my three years is up in June. I would like to volunteer to stay on as your Admin person, plus we have an Amazing Treasurer in Kelly Hills, and we have a Wonderfully Helpful Social Media Coordinator in Emma Russell, who are also willing to continue in these roles. But we cannot continue as a viable group without a Chairperson. The Executive Members have worked hard this year to set up some great speakers for next year, so the job is not really an onerous one...Would you consider taking on the Chairperson's position so that we can continue? Please let me know ASAP. Thanks!

Who's Up Next?

Ranchelle Van Bryce Speaking on: Changing Trends in Sales & Marketing

Founder of Stiletto Enterprise Inc. and the Stand Up, Stand Out Brand

Less than 2% of women in business make over 1 million dollars in sales annually, yet over 80% of new business owners are women. Women in business have a different set of challenges than men. Doing it yourself, not charging enough for products and services, and the myth of multitasking are just a few of the unique challenges women in business face.

From 2000 - 2010 Ranchelle owned 8 Curves for Women Fitness Centres, opening a new Curves every 6 months. Her Business Consulting Agency quickly became a full service sales and marketing agency.

She developed The Profit Formula, and her thirst for knowledge led to her understanding of psychology in sales and marketing, and 'why people buy'. Ranchelle's desire to prevent entrepreneurial burnout has led to her founding Stiletto Enterprises Inc., where she has blended her passions together: Building a strong and healthy business along with building a strong and healthy body.

Ranchelle's desire is to change the way women look at their health and their business so that they prevent the agony of burnout and can create the lifestyle that ignited their passion to have their own business.
